The MARYLAND GAZETTE.

[XIXth Year.] THURSDAY, September 1, 1763. [N°. 956.]

Mr. GREEN,

AS Humanity is the only Inducement [illegible] to ask the Favour, [illegible] Objective, I am [illegible] readily influence you to give the following Extracts a Place in your Paper.

The celebrated Dr. Boerhaave observes, "That since the Infancy of the healing Art, all Physicians have complained of the Want of a certain Preservative against the Hydrophobia or Canine Madness, and asserted that none have recovered after they were seized with a Dread of Water." On this he remarks, It is to be lamented, that after the common Methods have been put in Practice perpetually without Success for so many Ages, others have not been tried different from these which so long Experience has convinced us were ineffectual."

"The Prevention and Cure of this Disorder, continues he, if we except a few Instances, are highly dubious and uncertain; the Reasons of this Want of Success seems to be, a boasting Presence to many Specifics, and a Neglect of a due Method of Cure founded on the History of the Disorder; hitherto there is no Account of any effectual Remedy for the Cure of this miserable Distemper, tho' many are highly extolled, but they all owe their Reputation, either to Luxuriant Speculation, or a too great Confidence in the Report of others."

Then this Great Man enumerates the several not approved Methods in Use, and declares them ALL ineffectual. "But we ought not (says he) as there are other Specifics for other Poisons, to despair of finding a particular Antidote to this."

The excellent Dr. Robert James of London, encouraged from this Hint, determined to make a Trial, what Mercurial Medicines might be able to effect in this dreadful Malady; he began his Experiments on Mad Dogs, the surprizing good Success attending this pursuit, he soon after communicated in a Memorial to Sir Hans Sloane, then President of the Royal Society; on further Trials, still attended with the same happy Success, he again published his Experiments on other Mad Animals, which equally succeeded in the Prevention and Cure. The Doctor then informed the Public, That the Medicine he had made Use of, was the Turpeth Mineral.

Some Time after the Experiments were made public by Sir Hans in the Philosophical Transactions, Dr. Default's Dissertation on the Hydrophobia fell into the Hands of Dr. James; from this he had the Satisfaction to learn, as he expresses himself, "That Mercurial Unctions were effectual "in preventing and even curing this terrible Species of Madness," and from thence he concludes, "That Mercury, however disguised or prepared, "would always have the same salutary Effects."

The Method proposed by Default, and his Instances brought in Support of the Success, are really so justly striking, that I could with them a Place in your Paper, and more especially at this Time, when several late deplorable Examples of this dreaded Malady are still recent, and more still to be apprehended.

The benevolent Dr. James concludes his Observations on the several Methods of Cure, and more particularly on a red Powder brought from Tonquin in the East-Indies, and stiled Mineral both there and in England with surprizing good Success; upon Examination, those Powders proved to be native and factitious Cinnabar, and it is well known that Cinnabar is made of about three Parts of Mercury to one of Sulphur, so that this seems very strongly to prove the great Efficacy of Mercury in this Distemper.

The Receipt as follows:

Take of native and factitious Cinnabar, of each 24 Grains, Musk 16 Grains, powdered and mixed well together.

"It remains that I now give the precise Method, says Dr. James, which I would make Use of, if I should be called to a Person bitten by a Mad Dog.

"First, I would rub into the Place wounded, "as soon as possible, a Drachm of Mercurial "Ointment, made of 3 Parts of Hog's Lard to one "of Mercury, recommended by Default. I would "then give Turpeth Mineral, by Way of Vomit, "in a Dose proportioned to the Age and Constitution of the Patient, and this I would repeat "more than once at Intervals, which would secure it from raising a Salivation, always remembering to rub the Wound once a Day or oftener, with the Mercurial Ointment; neither should I "omit to direct Cinnabar and Musk, in the Manner directed above. Then (I apprehend the Doctor means as soon as it can be done with Security after using the Mercurial Medicines) "let the "Patient go into cold Water every Morning for a "Month, but when, thro' Neglect, any Symptoms "of approaching Madness should appear, I would "increase the Quantity of Mercurial Ointment, "and give Mercury in some Form or other internally in as large Doses, and those as often "repeated, as could be done without hazarding a "Salivation too precipitate. In both Cases I "would recommend the Cold Bath, as a Thing "of great Consequence, as soon as ever the Patient can make Use of it without Danger. What "in this Case, as in all others, many accidental "Circumstances will occur, for which it is impossible to lay down universal Rules; it must "therefore be left to the Prudence of a Physician, "to guard against and remedy Inconveniencies "arising from particular Accidents."

I cannot forbear hinting in this Place, altho' I own I have had no Experience to warrant it, but from considering the History and Nature of this Malady, as delivered by Boerhaave, That it is very probable, the present applauded Mercurial and antiphlogistic Method now so successfully made Use of in the SMALL-POX, would be attended with the like salutary Effects in this most fatal Disorder. I am, Sir,

Your most humble Servant,

J. SPRIGG.

LONDON, May 28.

IN the Warsaw Gazette, [illegible] is the following Relation: "One Margaret Krakowska died lately in the Village of Kaminz, aged 108, being born February 22, 1655. At the Age of 94 she married for her third Husband Gaspard Raykon, of the Village of Ciwonsein, then aged 104. During the 14 Years which they lived together they had two Boys and one Girl, and, what is very remarkable, these three Children bear evident Marks of the old Age of their Father and Mother. Their Hair is already grey, and they have a Vacuity in their Gums, like that which appears after the Loss of Teeth, though they never had any Teeth. They have not Strength enough to live on Solid Food, but live on Bread and Vegetables. They are of a proper Size for their Ages, but their Backs are bent, their Complexions are sallow, and they have all the other Symptoms of Decrepitude. Their Father is still alive. These Particulars are certified by the Parish Registers. The Village of Ciwonsein is in the District of Stanzick, in the Palatinate of Sendomir."

June 4. We hear the King of Portugal hath settled an Annuity of 2000 Moidores a Month on the Count de Lippe, for his eminent Services to that Kingdom during the War.

Letters from Berlin advise that the Ministry are almost wholly taken up in settling Plans of Oeconomy, to enable the King to keep always on Foot a large Army; and that the raising of Recruits to complete the Companies will not, for the future, be left to the Captains; but that the Recruits will be furnished by the King.

Private Letters from Germany by the last Mail inform us, that the Elector of Mentz's Death was hourly expected; and the Letters from Turin remark, that the King of Sardinia was still bad; but that his Physicians hoped he would get the better of his Disorder.

Letters by Yesterday's French Mail bring Advice, that a large Ship from Domingo to Bourdeaux, almost loaded with Indigo, and said to be worth 700,000 Livres, is entirely lost. It is said she had on board 150,000 lb. of Indigo.

They write from Hanover, that they had received an Account of the Hereditary Prince of Brunswick's Arrival at Aix-la-Chapelle on the 29th; and these Letters say, that after making Use of the Waters of that Place his Serene Highness would return to Brunswick, his Voyage to England being put off till September.

June 6. It is said a Lady of Quality was dressed as the Duke of Richmond's Masquerade, in such a Manner, that which ever Way she turned or moved, she represented a House at the Corner of a Street. [She might have stuck up an Advertisement on] TO BE LET. - - - - - -]

Most of the Nobility, who were at Court on Saturday, were dressed in English Manufactures, as were also their Majesties, and all the Royal Family.

The Illuminations and Fire-Works at the Mansion-House were very grand. The six Pillars which support the Pavilion were illuminated with upwards of 4000 Lamps. The Whole was conducted with the greatest Order, and though a vast Concourse of People assembled, we hear of no Mischief being done.

Saturday Evening last, immediately after the Exhibition of the Fire-Works on Tower-Hill was over, the People crowding in great Multitudes thro' Postern-Row, to get home, the Rails, by the extraordinary Pressure, gave Way, and several Persons were pushed down into the Place where the Warrant. Thirteen were taken up dead (besides several much bruised) seven of whom were carried to their respective Homes, and six lay Yesterday at Noon in the Watch-House, in Order to be owned. Among the Number killed were two Women big with Child.

Some Gentlemen of Billingsgate and Bridge Ward, illuminated the Monument at their own Expence. The following Motto appeared in transparent Capitals round the Iron Rails, DIGNITY TO THE CROWN; LIBERTY TO THE SUBJECT. The Gentlemen spent the Evening at the Swan Tavern with many loyal Toasts.

A noble Lord in this City advertised for a Taylor that would undertake to make a Suit of Cloaths out of Two and a Quarter Yards of Broad Cloth, for which a handsome Premium was offer'd; the Advertisement past'd unnoticed for a considerable Time, and at Length a Journeyman Taylor presented himself to his Lordship, with a Recommendation of being an honest faithful Workman, and desired to undertake the Task, upon which his Lordship furnished the Cloth, and in a few Days the Taylor presented the Coat, compleatly finished, which fitted his Lordship extremely well; he then cut the Waistcoat out of the Coat and presented that, which also fitted; and then cut the Breeches out of the Waistcoat and presented them, which likewise fitted; his Lordship then asked for his Coat and Waistcoat; upon which the Taylor delivered the Fragments of the Coat and Waistcoat, said that he had made the Suit according to Agreement, and presented his Bill for Payment, which his Lordship discharged without the least Hesitation, to the no small Satisfaction of the Taylor, and Diversion of a Number of Gentlemen who were present on the Occasion. [Quere. Which of the Two deserved most to be Laugh'd at, His Lordship or His Taylor?]

BOSTON, August 12.

We hear from Marblehead, that on Wednesday, the 3d Instant, the House of the Rev. Mr. Barnard was struck with Lightning: It came down the Side of the Chimney, tearing some of the Shingles off the Roof, and ran into the lower Room, ripped up the Wainscotting near the Fire-place, where was a Sconce Glass, and several Brass Knobs, which very evidently directed the Course of the Lightning; it proceeded to a Closet, and broke some China Ware therein, then went out of the House, just ripping up the upper Part of the Cellar Door. A Bowl which stood in the Closet had a Hole through, the Bigness of a Knitting-needle, occasioned by the Lightning. At the same Time a Cooper's Shop was struck in the same Town, the Chimney was beat in close to the Roof; providentially the Workmen just before went out of the Shop, whereby they escaped being hurt.

A more melancholy Effect of the Lightning the same Day was at Reading Precinct: One Mr. Frye of that Place, being in the Room with his Wife, who was standing near the Fire-Place, the Lightning came down the Chimney, which drove the Ashes in such a Manner that it filled the Room. Mr. Frye with Difficulty got to the Hearth, and pulled his Wife out, but found that she was instantly killed.

A few Days ago the House of the Rev. Mr. Wadd, of Attleborough, was struck with Lightning; the Fire following a large Ball, came down the Chimney into the lower Room, and made a considerable Explosion: There were a Number of Persons in several Parts of the House, a young Woman, who was in the lower Room, went up to see if any Damage had accrued, but found none, excepting a Quantity of Tow, which lay spread on the upper Chamber Floor, being in Store, she taking a Blanket, threw it over the Fire, and extinguished it, and thereby preserved the House from burning.

NEW-YORK, August 22.

GOSHEN, (about 70 or 80 Miles from New-York) August 5.

Last Week the following Accident happened in this Place. Several Men having been out upon the Hills, hunting the Deer, in their Return met with a Flock of Partridges, of which 4 Odns were discharged, three of them pretty quick after each other; this being an uncommon Accident in the Place, was mistaken by some of the Inhabitants of the West Kill, for the Firing of Indians. Immediately Alarm Guns were fired, and spread over the whole Place, which occasioned an amazing Panic and Confusion among the People, near 500 Families; some for Haste cut the Harness of their Horses from their Plows and Carts, and rode off with what Speed were most concerned to preserve. Some who had Occasion to cross the River, plunged thro', carrying their Wives and Children on their Backs; some, we have already heard, proceeded as far as New-England, spreading the Alarm as they went, and how far they may go is uncertain.

The Men who were the innocent Cause of the Alarm, informed as many as they could meet with of the Truth of the Case; but they were far from being able to quiet the Disturbance they had raised. Hence it is hoped People will be Cautious, not to be frightened without they see Appearance of Danger.

About 8 o'Clock last Wednesday Evening, in a Breeze, one of Mr. Watts's Ferry Boats coming over, was Rob'd about three Miles from Powles Hook [Query, whether any Body down, and every Person on board (being about 20 Men) but the Ferry Man, who was in the Stern, were Robbed.] Their Names are, Mr. Robert Kennedy, a British Officer, Mr. Thomas Mayhew, Mr. Robert Kennedy, a British Officer, man, and Mr. De Lage, all newly from England; [illegible]

James Anderson, a Scotch Gentleman also, lately from Messrs. Mr. David Ogilvie, and one Mr. Morrison, (both Scotch Gentlemen likewise, the former having resided there many Years, but the latter only a few Months) Mr. Chapman, a young Gentleman from Philadelphia, who but a few Months since inherited an Estate of £. 20,000; Mrs. Henderson, and Mrs. Reynolds, Wife of Capt. Reynolds now at Sea; And a Negro Boy belonging to Mr. De Lage. None of the Bodies of the above-mentioned unfortunate Persons are yet found, tho' a sharp Look Out has been for some Days past kept in the Bay for that Purpose; and 'tis something remarkable, that tho' there were many Boats in the Bay at the Time the Squall came up, not one of them received the least Damage, tho' several of them were to Windward of Mr. Watson's Boat when she overset.

PHILADELPHIA, AUGUST 25.

Extract of a Letter from Lancaster, August 23.

"Just as I had closed my Letter to you, John Hart, an Indian Trader, arrived here from Pittsburgh, and brings the following Account, which you may depend upon; That on the 5th and 6th Colonel Bouquet was attacked by the Indians, and lost and had wounded 210 Men: On the 8th he arrived at Pittsburgh. The Officers killed are Captain Graham, and Lieutenant Campbell; Lieutenant Dyk wounded. Mr. Hart declares, the Indians never had so severe a Drubbing since they knew the Use of Powder, &c. 20 of their Great Warriors were found dead, besides a great Number wounded, and dragged away by their Fellows."

Another Letter, from the same Place, mentions "Colonel Bouquet's getting to Pittsburgh, with all his Provisions; and that he had been able to carry all the Wounded with him to the Fort."

And a Third, "That the Hearing of the Colonel's Arrival at Pittsburgh, was as agreeable News to them, as any they had heard the last War."

Mr. Hart left Pittsburgh the Fifteenth Instant.

Extract of a Letter from Niagara, July 25, 1763.

"Since my last, a Man of the New-Jersey Provincials, belonging to this Garrison, was scalped within a Mile and a Half of the Fort, as he was going Express to Fort Schlosser, a Place about 18 Miles from hence, and where they embark, after having crossed the Portage. Two Sailors, belonging to Commodore Loring, have also shared the same Fate, at the Mouth of Lake Erie, where they had gone to embark for Detroit."

In a Letter from Carlisle, dated the 13th Instant, it is said, that some Indians (Single) have been lately seen in Shearman's Valley; and that on the 11th the Tracks of a Party were found there, supposed to consist of eight or ten, coming through Shearman's Valley, towards Carlisle, about twelve Miles upwards.

In another Letter from the same Place, of August 17, mention is made, that one John Martin, in the Great Cove, seeing an Indian coming up to a House where he was, fired at him; upon which the Indian raised a Yell, and took to a Tree: That Martin imagining there might be more Indians near him, ran to a Company at Work, and told what had happened, when they went to the Place, and found some Blood and Excrements; from which they concluded he was shot through the Bowels. They followed his Track down to a Bottom, where they saw the Tracks of six or seven more; but being a small Party, pursued no further. In this same Letter it is also said, that a young Man, at a Plantation about nine Miles from Carlisle, near the Foot of the Mountain, saw an Indian, and fired at him, at about 30 Yards Distance, but was not sure that he hit him; the Indian took to a Tree, and the Lad went back a little Way, in order to load again, but on his Return could not find the Indian. He then alarmed the Neighbourhood; and the Soldiers being all out in Parties, covering the People gathering in their Grain, upwards of Twenty young Men turned out immediately from Carlisle, to scour the Woods.

From Berks County we have Advice, that on the 16th Instant, they had Intelligence at Captain Kern's Post, on the North Branch of Schuylkill, above the Blue Mountain, of some Indians being seen about eight Miles from thence; on which a Party was sent out, who found their Tracks, but could not come up with them: That the same Day they received further Intelligence that the Enemy were about a Mile off, when a Party pursued, came up with, fired on them, and wounded one Indian, who was seen to fall three times; but there happening to be a severe Gust, they escaped: That soon after the Indians came within 80 Perches of the Guard, and carried off some Horses: And that a reconnoitring Party was fired on by them from a Swamp, when our Men immediately rushed into it, but the Pines and Laurels were so thick, that they could not find them.

Extract of a Letter from Fort Cumberland, dated August 9.

"I have just received Advice by Express, that this Day the Savages killed one Captain Staunton, and another Man, of the Virginia Militia, and wounded three others dangerously, at a Fort above Pearsall's, on the South Branch, but scalped none. There were eleven Men in the Fort; the Party of Indians was between Thirty and Forty, three of whom are thought to be killed. Colonel Stephens will be here To-morrow with 140 or 50 Men. As he has the Command of the Militia of several Counties, he has promised to assist all in his Power, by guarding Bedford and this Garrison."

By a Person from Fort Augusta, we learn that our People were all well there, about fourteen Days ago; but that the Indians, who used to live on the Big Island, on the West Branch of Susquehannah, were all gone off, excepting one old Man, and his two Sons, and are supposed to have joined the other Indians in the War against us.
